BUSINESS CONTINUITY PLANNING RESPONSE SCENARIOS

The details of our BCP are proprietary and contain confidential information. The following series of event scenarios are presented to disclose to you our planned approach for dealing with a variety of hypothetical Significant Business Disruptions (SBD's), but based on the number of variables in each situation, CMS can't guarantee we will follow these plans.

Scenario: A nationwide event occurs, like that of 9/11, that causes the complete shut down of securities trading, clearance/settlement or other banking services nationwide.

CMS plans to continue business during this type of event and will await the reopening of the affected institutions. We plan to be open each business day until full functionality is restored. The recovery time in this scenario will be dependent on the timing specified by the affected organizations. We plan to be ready to open when they reopen. During a nationwide event, our clearing firm, Hilltop Securities, will await the reopening of the exchanges and upon resumption of business activity will again process trades for us.

Scenario: A regional event occurs that shuts down CMS

CMS plans to continue business during this type of event and will conduct business at a temporary backup location if unable to access its main office or branch office locations. The recovery time objective will be less than four hours. During a regional event, our clearing firm, Hilltop Securities, will continue to process trades for our customers.

Scenario: Our main office building is closed (single building, city wide)

CMS will operate at one of our branch offices. The recovery time objective would be less than one hour. During this type of business disruption, our clearing firm would continue to process trades for our customers.
